England's East Midlands

LOOKING FOR BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES IN THE UK?

Are you involved in the life sciences industry? Would you like to find out about opportunities within a premier location for medicine and life sciences in the UK?

Now is the time to act!

You are invited to join the East Midlands life sciences team on its Scandinavian road show in September. We will provide an overview of the East Midlands life sciences cluster, its strengths in product development and clinical trials, as well as the infrastructure and support available to companies in all stages of development.

In addition you will have the opportunity to hear and network with life sciences companies from the East Midlands. This will be an excellent opportunity to develop your business within the UK, whether you're looking for direct sales, or collaboration with companies and universities in our region.

Whatever your issue - industry specific, regulatory or expansion based - we will have experts on hand to offer help and advice.

At the heart of the UK, England's East Midlands represents a significant life sciences cluster. There are over 12,000 people employed in 480 businesses. The region is home to 10 world class universities, 69 hospitals, a network of high caliber science parks and incubation facilities including BioCity Nottingham, one of the largest in Europe. (www.biocity.uk.co)

The East Midlands is internationally regarded for its ground breaking achievements. These include the development of Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) at The University of Nottingham, by Nobel Laureate Sir Peter Mansfield and genetic fingerprinting by Sir Alec Jeffreys at The University of Leicester.
